Expenses of Student Organizations to be Audited by New Committee

Joint Supervision Group of Faculty and Students Is Established

PLAN NOW IN EFFECT

All student organizations of the College that receive and spend money are now under the supervision of a faculty-student budgeting committee, following the final approval given to this plan, at a meeting of the faculty, last Tuesday afternoon, November 7.

Under the operation of this new system, all student organizations are required to keep complete records of their receipts and expenditures, which shall be open to the inspection by the student-faculty committee at all times. This body consists of three faculty members appointed annually by the President of the College, and three students elected annually by the Men's Student Council, the Women's Student Council, and the Council on Student Activities.

A faculty committee has been at work on this project since last spring, and has made an investigation of the practices on other campuses. In nearly all colleges, it was found, supervision over the expenditures of student organizations was exercised by a committee for that purpose, usually composed of faculty members only, or sometimes having student representatives also.

The faculty committee which drew up the plan for the budgeting committee has been appointed to serve on the new budgeting body. It consists of Professor Bone, the chairman; Professor Sheeder, and the Director of Athletics, Mr. Johnson, Dorothy Horne '35, Martha Moore '34, and William O'Donnell '34.

The new committee may organize in any way it wishes. Before this plan was adopted, student leaders were consulted, and gave their full approval to the idea.

The complete plan as adopted follows:

1. All student organizations that receive and expend monies shall be required to keep adequate records of account.

"Ditter" Haynes Plays For Senior Class' Fall Hop

To the music of "Ditter" Haynes and his Blue Band from the Eagle's Roof Garden in Bridgeton, New Jersey, approximately 110 couples enjoyed an evening of dancing in the Thompson-Gay gymnasium, Saturday night, under the sponsorship of the senior class.

The gymnasium was appropriately decorated in the season's fashion with corn shocks and autumn foliage. The dancers were refreshed with punch. In addition to students of Ursinus, many alumni and visitors, who came to see the Bears play Muhlenberg in the afternoon, attended the dance.

Prof. and Mrs. J. H. Brownback and Prof. R. S. Sibbald chaperoned the affair. Those on the committee who had the responsibility in making the dance a success were: James Wharton, chairman, James Russo, Everett Danehower, Sara Kitchen, Isobel Wilt, and Florence Froesch.

SOCCERMEN LOSE TO F. & M., BUT PUT UP GOOD FIGHT

The Grizzly booters met their second straight reverse, Saturday morning, when they bowed to Franklin and Marshall at Lancaster. The Bears were a continual threat, but were unable to tally. The final whistle found them on the short end of a 2-0 score.

The Bears played a hard game throughout showing a much better brand of ball than they displayed at Gettysburg the previous week. Several scoring opportunities were missed in the first period. Rallying strongly in the last quarter, Baker's booters kept F. & M. on the defensive until the final whistle; the Lancaster men advanced into enemy territory only twice during the entire period. The Bears scoring hopes faded as shot after shot went wild or was

SMOKER SET FOR THURSDAY

All men are invited to attend a smoker, this Thursday evening, in the gymnasium. Two wrestling matches will be featured between "Jim" Burk and "Bob" Black, and between Dale Edgerton and Paul Lauer.

A boxing match is also scheduled between Dale Edgerton and Paul Lauer. The College band will be there, and a few "pep" talks will be given. Be on hand, men, to smoke your favorite brand of cigarettes!

FRED CARDIN ENTERTAINS WITH MUSIC AND LECTURE

Authority on Indian Lore Presents
Varied Program on Native's
Songs and Customs

TALK GIVEN IN INDIAN ATTIRE

Mr. Fred Cardin, well-known Indian musician and lecturer, attired in native costume, entertained the faculty and students of the College with a varied program last Tuesday evening, November 7.

Mr. Cardin, whose Indian name is Pejawah or "Big Cat", was educated at the Indian Reservation School in Oklahoma and at the Carlisle Indian School. Later he studied advanced music, specializing in the music of his native people. At present Mr. Cardin is director of the orchestra at Reading High School where he also composes the music for the yearly pageants.

The music of the North American Indians is individual in style, reflecting the environment, life, and customs of the tribes in which it originates. There are on the whole four distinct types coming from the four main groups of Indians. The eastern or Woods tribes have lost a great deal of their music because of the press of civilization in that part of the continent. In the songs of the Northwestern Indians of Alaska, the great superstition of the people is highly significant. Very emotional war music and ceremonial songs belong to those tribes who inhabited the prairies, while the peacefulness and seriousness of the Southwestern Indians has been handed down to us in their death songs. The main musical instruments of this primitive race were rattles, drums, tom-toms, flutes, and bowe

FATHERS' DAY BANQUET ATTRACTS LARGE NUMBERS

The annual Fathers' Day was brought to a close by the banquet, held in the upper dining room, on Saturday evening, November 11. An unusually large number of students and their fathers were present. Dr. Omwake gave the address of welcome and introduced two fathers of students, who gave short talks.

BAZAAR, TEA, AND PLAY TO FOLLOW SWARTHMORE GAME

Following the Swarthmore-Ursinus football game on November 18, the Women's Dormitory Committee will sponsor an informal tea and bazaar in the Thompson-Gay Gymnasium.

The bazaar will be opened immediately after the game, at which time numerous articles, suitable for Christmas gifts, will be displayed. These include linens, scarfs, Ursinus pennants, book-ends, crockery, and many other worth-while articles offered at very reasonable prices. At the same time tea and cakes will be served for ten cents. A special treat will be home-made cakes and candies which will be on sale during the course of the afternoon.

"Thank You, Doctor," a comedy in one act, will be presented in the gym-

RECITAL OF CLASSICAL MUSIC GIVEN BY INSTITUTE ARTISTS

Misses Krinsky, Spitzer, and Singer
Entertain With Piano, Violin, and Vocal Selections

ARTISTS DISPLAY ABILITY

Student representatives of the Curtis Institute of Music of Philadelphia presented a program of classical piano, violin, and vocal selections, last Thursday evening, November 9, in Bomberger hall. The audience, composed not only of students, but also of people from the local community, was an appreciative one.

This concert was one of those arranged by the Curtis Institute for near-by colleges, both to provide experience for the artists and to encourage a love of music in the students. Ursinus College is fortunate in being chosen by the Institute, and more such programs will follow this one during the school year.

Miss Yvonne Krinsky, pianist, opened the program with an interpretative rendition of the "Toccata and Fugue in D Minor" by Bach-Tausig.

Miss Krinsky entered the Curtis Institute in 1926, after studying under well-known masters in New York City. During the past two years Miss Krinsky has given a number of recitals before various schools and musical organizations.

The second group of numbers were violin selections by Miss Jean Spitzer. Her interpretations showed great ability in playing any type of music ranging from the extremely slow tempo in a plaintive minor key to light, swift melodies. She has been studying at the Curtis Institute since 1930.

Miss Irene Singer was the next artist on the program. Her lovely coloratura voice has been heard to great advantage in concerts and in the Phila-

PEP WEEK ENTHUSIASM IS CLIMAXED BY TORCH PARADE

Pep Week, climaxed by the spirited meeting and parade, Friday night, served to stir up greater pre-game enthusiasm than has existed here for several years. The week rolled noisily along, at least until the Mules pranced out on the field, Saturday afternoon.

Cheering threatened to raise the roof in Bomberger hall, Friday night, when a large crowd turned out to encourage the team. The principal speaker was Ralph Chase, genial Ursinus line coach, who told the squad and the rest of the College how much the game meant to him, and what should be done to bring about a victory.

After a short booster talk by Professor Sibbald and a few words from Captain "Wally" Tropp, the crowd formed a parade, and marched down Main street, blocking traffic, as best they could. Led by the flaming torches of the freshmen the aggregation marched to the bonfire below the hockey field and shouted its loudest under the leadership of head cheer leader "Jimmy" Russo.

SUTIN LEADS RUNNERS IN LAST CROSS COUNTRY MEET

The Ursinus cross country team closed its season last Friday afternoon by bowing to a well-balanced team on the home course, 34 to 21. The cold temperature, high winds and flurries of snow made the times appear rather slow, but Sutin easily captured first place by covering the four and a quarter mile course in 24 minutes and 36 seconds.

Captain Sutin took the lead at the start and retained it throughout the run, thus bringing to a fitting close a very successful career as a hill and daler.

Lehigh had four men on Sutin's heels and McLaughlin took sixth place for Ursinus. Bayer was first for Lehigh and was closely followed by Captain MacPhee.

Summary: 1. Sutin, (U); 2. Bayer, (L); 3. MacPhee, (L); 4. Drisco, (L); 5. Everett, (L); 6. McLaughlin, (U); 7. Fretz, (L); 8. Neiman, (U); 9. Wyncoop, (U); 10. Reynolds, (U).

STUDENT ACTIVITIES COUNCIL DISCUSS CONFLICT MEETINGS

All Organizations Are To Register
Their Meetings in College
Calendar

TO SPONSOR XMAS PARTY

Why meetings of College organizations conflict rather often was the chief topic of discussion at the meeting of the Council on Student Activities held last Tuesday evening, November 7.

Various members of the council criticized the freedom allowed students in signing up events in the College calendar, as making unnecessary the existence of such a council. It was brought out that several organizations were holding meetings on the same evening at the same time. As a result, students who wished to go to both meetings could not do so.

The president and the secretary of the council, after consulting with Dr. Omwake later in the week, announced this agreement on the matter: all organizations will register their meetings in the college calendar as is being done at present; only social activities and other meetings involving a large number of the student body, including such events as dances and group meetings, must be brought before the council or its executive committee. Professor Brownback is the president, and Betty Luther '34 the secretary, of this executive body.

On Thursday nights no activities will be permitted that will in any way conflict with orchestra and band rehearsals. In case of conflicts be-

INTER-DORM LEAGUE FORMED TO PROVIDE TOUCH FOOTBALL

Brodbeck, Curtis, and Freeland held a triple share on first place, as the first week of action in the inter-dormitory football games drew to a close.

The boys from Brodbeck hung up a 6-0 win over Derr, as Reggie Miller notched a touchdown, late in the tilt. Scoreless at the half, the new dorm eleven came to life in the final period to defeat the Derr gridders.

Curtis scored thrice in swamping the Day Students, 14-0. They were deadlocked 0-0 at the half, but with the wind at their backs, Curtis stepped out in the final session, registering two touchdowns and a safety. Both six-pointers were made on forwards, with Carr accounting for the first and Jones, on an interception, for the other. Mowrey blocked an opposition punt with his nose, and the ball bounded into the end zone for a safety, adding the other two points.

Freeland's Parsons upset the dope in handing Stine a 6-0 reverse. Stine did all it could, but was outgamed by the ministers. Russ Fisher, Brodbeck, impartially refereed all the frays.

It is expected that all the games

Weiner's Placement Kick in Last Period Banishes Ursinus Conference Hopes

AERIAL ATTACK FAILS

The kick of the Mule was just a little too strong for a band of inspired Bears to overcome on Saturday, and consequently Ursinus' hopes for the Conference title were washed up altogether, when the educated toe of Al Weiner, Muhlenberg quarterback, sent the pigskin sailing through the uprights for a field goal, and the only score of the game, to win for the Allentown aggregation, 3-0. Over 2000 loyal followers, fathers, and neighboring high school rooters, guests of the College, shivered through the lengthy struggle down on Patterson Field, and saw the Grizzlies valiantly fight for a lost cause, as the heralded aerial attack went for naught and the running attack never got started.

Even Play in First Half

Both teams had good scoring chances in the first half, but neither materialized. The Mules drove to the Grizzlies 8-yard stripe early in the game, but here the mighty defense of the home team rose to superior heights and prevented a score by taking the ball on downs. Ursinus, a short time later, drove deep into rival territory, but a grounded pass over the goal line balked that scoring attempt. The first half ended with no score and the play fairly even on both sides.

Mules Score in Last Quarter

In the second half, however, the Bears were clearly outplayed. The visitors gained repeatedly through the line and overhead, and had the McAvoymen backed up to the wall several times. However the scoring punch was lacking, until a costly fumble by Shuman in the final period, recovered by the visitors on the Bear 40-yard mark, paved the way for the three-pointer. Weiner, the outstanding man on the field, chugged off 12 yards at tackle, then distributed three consecutive passes between Lapore and Wavrik, which brought the leather up to the four yard line. Three line plays failed to gain, but at least put the ball in field goal position, and

Hockey Coeds Shut Out Phila. Country Club, 5-0

The Ursinus hockey team defeated the Philadelphia Country Club 5-0, last Saturday morning, on the home field.

A few minutes after the game started Captain Quay scored the first goal. The Country Club worked harder to keep Ursinus from scoring again, but after some fast playing Eleanor Lyle scored the second point. In a short time, "Mid" Godshall added two other goals.

At the start of the second half the backfield played excellent hockey to keep the opponents from scoring. At no time were they able to get the ball past Janet Bardsley. After hard playing "Bups" Francis scored the

REFLECTIONS ON ARMISTICE DAY

What were the results of the World War? Eight million dead, 21 million wounded, and a direct cost of the war amounting to over 186 billion dollars.

Did our country achieve its purpose by entering the war? No. At present the world seems safer for demagogues than for democracy. The wealth lost and suffering engendered by recent business troubles are small when compared with that resulting from the eighteen months we were in the fight.

What was our chief loss? Not in wealth, but in human suffering. It is time for us to remember that individuals do not exist for the benefit of the state, but that the individuals and the state should live in an inter-dependent relationship.

What should be done to avoid any such future catastrophes? Our country should co-operate to the fullest in all movements for world peace. We are so situated that we can abandon our traditional isolation—we have done that—without involving ourselves in pledges to war except when our preservation is involved. We should not waste money on building up the greatest navy in the world—if we are working in the interest of peace. Foolish that nation would be that attempted to invade our territory. Only then would war on our part be justifiable.

For what other cause would there be any glory in being one of thousands wiped out by a single wave of poison gas?

GOOD WORK BOOSTERS

Within the past week we have seen an exhibition of the finest enthusiasm and spirit that has pervaded the Ursinus campus in many a day. The whole student body showed more spirit before the Muhlenberg game than they have before all other contests put together.

For this display of pep and enthusiasm throughout the week we must necessarily thank the Booster Committee and cheer leaders. They have been responsible entirely for the spontaneous outburst on the part of the whole College, and the coaches and student body join in expressing their appreciation to those individuals who directed the movement.

The Booster Committee has proven that it can function and arouse us to a fever pitch in support of our gridiron warriors. One more home game remains to be played and this will bring to a close the football careers of several of our stellar athletes. Let us keep up the same spirit this week and thus pay a fitting tribute to the fine ability and sportsmanship of these men who have loyally supported Ursinus on the gridiron for the past four years!

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE GIVEN CHEMISTS BY DR. MAUCHLY

Dr. John W. Mauchly addressed a group of interested students on "Spectrum Analysis in Chemistry", at the regular meeting of the Hall Chemical Society, last Monday evening, November 6.

He emphasized the importance of the spectroscopy in the field of modern chemistry, and how it opens up an unlimited field. One of its principal uses is in the detection of chemical elements in compounds, which could not be otherwise discovered. It is also used quite frequently to show energy transformations in chemical reactions.

The different methods of spectrum analysis were compared and the advantages of each explained. He also described the different types of spectroscopic lines and spectra plates of various chemical elements. The lecture was illustrated throughout with diagrams, illustrating different phases of the subject.

The lecture-demonstration on "Fixation of Nitrogen" which was scheduled for November 20 will not be given until December 4.

"A chemistry professor at Syracuse University, while recuperating from an appendicitis operation used a microphone, a radio loud-speaker and a telephone to deliver a lecture to his students." If that should come. Perish the thought!

ARMISTICE DAY SERVICE IS FEATURE OF Y. W. MEETING

A very effective candlelight service characterized the Armistice Day program which the Y. W. C. A. presented to their guests, the members of the Y. M., Wednesday evening, Nov. 8, in Bomberger hall. Victoria Mollier '37 played several organ selections. Margaret Shively '35 presented the reading "Unknown", which tells how mothers for centuries have sacrificed their sons for the purpose of promoting world peace.

From behind the attractively draped stage representing an altar, Betty Luther '34 read a selection entitled "A Rendezvous with Death."

This was followed by an excerpt from a pageant written for a similar program, Dorothy Patterson '35, costumed in a long white robe, aptly portrayed the part of the Time who lit the candles for each successive event which has brought the world nearer to international peace. These occasions were the birth of Christ, the crucifixion of Christ, the Revolutionary War, and finally the World War.

Following this, a chorus composed of Marion Hageman '34, Mildred Peterman '36, Betty Neast '34 Doris Wilfong '35, Betty Luther '34, and Wilhelmina Meinhardt '36 sang "Lest We Forget." Victoria Mollier '37 then played as an organ response "Going Home", and closed the program with "The Recessional."

GAFF from the GRIZZLY

What man, well-known on this campus, was seen selling insurance to his arch enemy in the Science Building, early last week?

Ex-editor Alspach informs us that James E. Plum (of Town-car fame) wishes to be remembered to his numerous campus pals.

For the first time in history, Gaff takes himself for a ride. Yes, I'm the guy who said that Hegira was Charlemagne's wife.

Reggie Miller comes through with a classic remark: "Did you say Shikat threw Judge Williams?"

The latest English Group theme song: "Who's Afraid of the Big Beowulf?"

Claghorn is under the impression that he is warm blooded most of the time. How about it, gals?

"Gracie" Krusen asked what member of the football team, "Did you see the game Saturday?"

Reds Bassman enjoys a host of names, but some freshman girl has dubbed him with a prize winner. She started her letter with "My Dearest Bashful Romeo."

Evidently Miss Loos' studies are getting her down. She hasn't had a dining room giggling spell for two weeks.

The Derr hall intra-mural football team is protesting its first game. They claim that Miller, Brodbeck star, who scored the only touchdown of the game, is a ringer; since his contract with the Deans team will not run out until November 15th. An official report from Brodbeck states that they are hopeful that his contract will not be renewed.

"ROOSEVELT" AND "LITVINOFF" TO CONVERSE TONIGHT

The Women's Debating Club meeting, which will be held this evening in Shreiner hall, promises to be an interesting one, for the members will be privileged to listen in on a private conversation between President Roosevelt and Maxim Litvinoff.

The part of the President will be taken by Dora Evans '36, and that of the Foreign Minister of Soviet Russia by Elizabeth Kassab '36. Mrs. Roosevelt, who will be impersonated by Helen Alspach '36, will entertain at tea to which the club members are invited. Mrs. Litvinoff, Esther Lightner '34 will be one of the guests. An open discussion will follow the tea.

The debating club's object this year is to vary their programs; they will include impartial discussions, the handling of situations, and political meetings.

FRESHMEN GIRLS TO ATTEND WOMEN'S CLUB TEA

In accordance with the annual custom, the Ursinus Women's Club will hold a tea at the home of Mrs. John Lentz, on the afternoon of Thursday, November 16, from four to six o'clock. The guests will be the girls of the freshman class and the presidents of the girls' halls.

The Ursinus Women's Club is composed of mothers of the Ursinus students, alumnae of the college, and other women interested in the girls on the campus. The purpose of this tea is not only to help the freshman girls become acquainted with each other, but to establish a contact between them and the Ursinus Women's Club.

An interesting entertainment has been devised by the program committee and consists of a short address by Miss Helen Ferree '14, and vocal, instrumental, and dramatic selections by representatives of the various girls' halls. The selections will include piano solos by Sylvia Acri '35, Florence Frosh '34, and Mary Helen Alspach '36; vocal solos by Freda Schindler '35, and Victoria Mollier '37; a reading by Dorothy Patterson '35; and a violin duet by Betty Neast '34 and Alice Richard '35.

The members of the social committee of the Ursinus Women's Club are Mrs. Latschar, chairman; Mrs. Lentz, Mrs. Cornish, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Sheeder, Miss Anna Uhrich, Miss Evelyn Omwake, and Miss Helen Isenberg.

DISARMAMENT AND PEACE PROGRAM TOMORROW NIGHT

Disarmament and world co-operation will be the center of discussion at the open meeting of the International Relations Club, tomorrow evening at 8 p. m., in the West Music Studio. All students and faculty of the College are invited to attend this meeting; the program has been arranged to sum up the world problems naturally brought to the fore by Armistice Day.

Four members of the club will give short talks on different phases of international co-operation and peace. Louis Mitchell '34 will discuss Christian Gauss' article in Scribner's Magazine, "Can America Live Alone?", which caused so much discussion a few weeks ago.

Violet Wintersteen '34 will talk on Germany's withdrawal from the Geneva Disarmament Conference and the League of Nations, and the immediate effect of that action on those two bodies. Doris Wilfong '35 will summarize the situation at the principle danger spots in Europe, which might lead to war, stressing the relations between France and Germany.

The history of the disarmament conference will be outlined by Kermit Harbaugh '36. He will also discuss the chief aims which a disarmament and world peace movement must seek to attain, if it is to be successful.

MUSIC CLUB ELECTS

The Music Club announces the election of the following officers for the current year: president, Rose-Marie Brubaker '34; vice-president, Betty Neast '34; secretary, Irene Takacs '34; treasurer, Rubin Levin '34; and program head, Kathryn Prizer '34.

GRIZZLY GLEANINGS

This is an investigation into ancient history. Believe it or not, there are few old publications which make more interesting reading than the files of the Weekly of thirty years ago. Then, it was a four-column paper, with columns only about a foot long, although it consisted of four pages as at present.

Our decade may be one of high-pressure salesmanship, and of widespread advertising, but it is well to note that the Weekly of thirty years ago contained proportionately as much advertising material as do the present issues of the paper.

The staff consisted of only eleven students, at that time, and Friday was the day for publication. Here are a few quotations from some of the issues of November, 1903. Perhaps history does repeat itself after all.

"The following committee was appointed to solicit subscriptions for the proposed field house... The plan now is to raise $1200, and include a cage for baseball practice, for basketball, and, perhaps, for football practice in inclement weather. There seems little doubt of the success of the affair, but each one must put his shoulder to the wheel and push the thing alone."

"The students who were home to vote (?) have again taken up their work."

"Halloween was gloriously celebrated at Olevian hall. The nuns had hung up some apples in a doorway and each one was asked to try the size of his mouth by bobbing for them... fate deigned to give the initial of the fair one or hero for life, to the girl or boy as the case might be. This was done by piercing one of the letters burnt on a large pumpkin, while the pumpkin was being twirled rapidly. 'Steal a girl and run' were the next words heard, and in a moment all found that their flight ended in the dining room."

"Let the team get together and put lots of ginger into their play, and let the students stop their gloomy forebodings and vent their pent-up enthusiasm in cheers for the team... 'Whoop her up, Ursinus!'"

(An early pep meeting)—"A mass meeting of the students was held in the chapel on Tuesday evening to make arrangements for systematic yelling and cheering at the remaining football games. The coach, manager, and others spoke on cheering as a factor in sports. S—, '04 was then elected to lead in the cheering. It was agreed that students should meet on the grandstand each afternoon during the week to practice new songs and yells, and a committee was appointed to compose the same."

The Tower Window

At the Educational Congress in Harrisburg last week, I sat through and slightly participated in a symposium on the schools of tomorrow. The schools of tomorrow were discussed in a battery of ten minute addresses from the points of view of the pupil (a high school girl whose address was one of the best in the series), the classroom teacher, the parent, the profession, the teachers' college, the college, the university, and the public. Notwithstanding the distress which education suffers in many places and the hardships which many teachers are obliged to endure, the speeches all looked forward to a new and better day. Somehow one cannot be other than optimistic when childhood and youth are under discussion.

It is quite possible, however, that education in the future will be something quite different from what it has been in the recent past. It is becoming more certain every day that there will be significant shifts in emphases with reference to the subjects of study comprised in the curricula of the schools, and also considerable reconstruction and reorganization of the system itself. Critics are becoming more and more outspoken as problems incident to the depression call for comment and action.

Persons who have complacently accepted our wonderful school system as the flower of our civilization will experience something of a shock when an educator of the standing enjoyed by Professor David Snedden, of Columbia University tells the National Conference on Government that "it is doubtful whether the lavish outlays on high schools are worth ten per cent of what they cost for actual contribution to citizenship, culture, workmanship or public morals." "The wastes in American education," says he, "are tenfold greater than in any of our larger industries."

For heavily taxed cities, Professor Snedden suggests the reduction of the school day for all children under ten years of age to two and one-half hours, each teacher taking a class of forty in the forenoons and another forty in the afternoons, and adds, "If all children from the better seventy per cent of American homes attended no school at all until nine or ten years of age, then attended full time until eighteen, they would exhibit no serious deficiencies of learning at the age of twenty, in comparison with those who started at the age of four."

This would throw childhood back into the home where it belongs, but then that institution of society would have to be revamped. Many a home today is no place to bring up children. G. L. O.

ENGLISH CLUB REVIEWS

WELL-KNOWN PLAYS

The discussion topic for the English Club, last Monday evening, November 6, at Fircroft hall, was the modern play. Resumes were given of several plays which had been read by club members.

Isobel Wilt '34 read a paper on "When Ladies Meet," a comedy by Rachel Crothers. Miss Crothers is considered one of today's most outstanding playwrights, and her play, "When Ladies Meet," is a clever and interesting treatment of the usual triangular plot, with fine character portrayal.

Sara Brown '34 then discussed "Both Your Houses," a play written for the purpose of exposing the graft method employed by the representatives of our government.

Violet Wintersteen '34 reviewed "Alien Corn" by Sidney Howard. This deals with the social question of whether talented people can live happily in a provincial atmosphere. It has recently become a great stage success starring Katherine Cornell.

Dr. Smith, advisor of the club, discussed the modern theatre. He emphasized the fact that the theatres are on a money-making basis, and therefore cater to the mass. The tired business men demand something light and entertaining, while the ultra-sophisticated audience delights in the unreal and artificial. Thus many poor plays are produced rather than the excellent ones, which often cannot draw the crowds.

ALUMNI NOTES

'91—Rev. Harry E. Jones, D. D., Milford, N. J., died suddenly on Sunday morning, October 8. Early in the summer Dr. Jones had been critically ill, but had recovered sufficiently to attend in part to his pastoral work when he was unexpectedly overtaken by death. Funeral services were held in the Presbyterian Church at Mt. Pleasant, N. J., on October 12. After graduation from Ursinus Mr. Jones spent two years in the Ursinus School of Theology, after which he was examined and licensed to preach the Gospel by Schuylkill Classis in May, 1893. The earlier part of his ministry was spent in the Reformed Church at McConnellstown, Pa., Hamilton, Ohio, and in Palatinate and St. Andrews churches in Philadelphia. He then entered the Presbyterian Church in which church he served several congregations. His ministry in both churches was fruitful, the result of his deep consecration and the evangelistic character of his work. Dr. Jones is survived by his widow, a daughter, Marion, at one time a student at Ursinus, now living in Pittsburgh, and a son, who is a student in Princeton Theological Seminary.

'25—Mr. Elmer Herber, who is a member of the faculty at Dickinson College, recently gave a lecture before the members of the Mohler Scientific Club of that college. The lecture was accompanied by a series of slides made by Mr. Herber on some recent trips to the west, some of which were in full color. In the group were included pictures taken at the Rocky Mountain Biological Station in Colorado and at the University of Michigan Biological Station near the Straits of Mackinac in Canada. Mr. Herber's lecture and pictures have attained popularity. The lecture has been given five times during the past year.

'28—On Saturday, November 4, Miss Elsie Knibb, of Cardwell, Virginia, and Joel Francis, of Collegeville, were married in the Elpis Christian Church at Perkinsville, Virginia. Rev. A. C. Knibb, father of the bride, performed the ceremony. The bride and groom were attended by Miss Hazel Knibb and Warren Francis '30. Paul Oberholtzer, of Rahns, and Floyd Heller '33, a law student in the University of Pennsylvania, were the ushers. Miss Knibb was graduated from Lynchburg College, Lynchburg, Virginia, and for the past several years has been teaching home economics in the Chester schools. Mr. Francis is employed by the Collegeville Flag and Manufacturing Co. After the wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Francis will reside in Graber's Apartments, Collegeville.

CLASS OF 1936 SELECTS

NEW TYPE OF "U" RING

This year a slightly different type of ring is being purchased by the sophomore class. The design decided upon will be a combination of two styles. The pattern will be similar to the "U" ring of last year's graduating class, but will have a different shank. Instead of the entire bear appearing, only the head of the bear, like the one on the present 1934 ring, will be displayed.

The Skillkrafters, a Philadelphia firm, has received the contract for the ring. The orders have been sent in; it is expected that the rings will be delivered sometime during the week before the Christmas holidays.

The committee in charge of the matter is composed of the following sophomores: Lydia Ganser, Doris Roach, Mary Helen Alspach, Fuller Grenawalt, Leon Trumbore, Frederick Boysen.

MEN DEBATORS TO DISCUSS

PRINCIPLES OF N. R. A.

The Webster Forensic Club will inaugurate its customary semi-monthly meetings of the club, tonight at 8 o'clock, in room five of Bomberger hall.

Membership in the Webster Forensic Club is open to all men students. It is from this club that the members of the men's college debating teams are picked.

An informal discussion will be held on the subject to be debated by most eastern colleges, "Resolved, that the essential features of the N. R. A. be adopted as the permanent policy of the United States Government." At this meeting the members will decide whether the club will be represented by two teams discussing one question or four teams discussing two questions. The second question under consideration is, "Resolved, That the federal government should own and operate all banking institutions." The manager of debating, Norman Shollenberger '34 has been in communication with those colleges with whom it has been customary to debate questions in the past, in regard to forensic competition on the two questions mentioned.

Professor Carter, faculty advisor of the club, has had a number of books and periodicals placed on reserve in the library, which contain material relative to these questions. It is advisable for candidates to do some reading on the subjects to be debated.

DANCE AND RUSHING RULES

DISCUSSED BY SORORITIES

Rushing rules and the proposed Pan-Hellenic Ball were the chief topics of discussion at the meeting of the Intersorority Council, held last Tuesday afternoon, November 7.

The sororities decided that they would not combine with the fraternities in sponsoring the annual Pan-Hellenic Ball. For the past few years a deficit has occurred as a result of the dance, for which the sororities and fraternities have been assessed. The sororities did not wish to run any such chance by obligating themselves at this time.

For upper classmen and sophomore girls the rushing season is from November 1 to November 15. At the close of this period the bids go out, and answers must be returned within twenty-four hours.

THERE'S ONE BEST TIME

To Telephone Home!

You'll agree, once you've tried it, that half past eight is the time to telephone home.

At half past eight the day's rush is over. Your time is free for a leisurely telephone chat.

At half past eight the same is true at home. It's the best time to catch the family all together.

At half past eight (and this is most important) low Night Rates go into effect on Station to Station calls. You can then save as much as 40% on your call. For example: If your home is 100 miles away, a three-minute connection will cost only 35 cents!

of the LOW NIGHT RATES...

Call after 8:30 P.M., and be sure to make a Station to Station call.

That means, ask the Operator for your home telephone, but not for any specific person.

If you've fixed a date in advance, the family will be sure to be there.

Charges may be reversed.

the Utzmen were quick to take this advantage. The Bears' hopes faded as the boot from Weiner's toe sailed magnificently over the crossbar, for the game was practically over.

Bear Aerials Fail

A final desperate aerial attack resulted in the game's big thrill, when Captain Tropp, who played nobly for the Grizzlies, speared Calvert's pass and dashed 45 yards through a broken field before he was brought to earth deep in Muhlenberg territory. This sprint would have ended in the end zone had Wally been able to evade the safety man. However, passes from this point on failed the Bears, and the final whistle found the aerials flying wildly in all directions.

The Mules outscored the Bears in first downs, 10 to 4, and completed six passes to two for the home team. This Saturday the Ursinus team will attempt to avenge the two past defeats by trouncing Swarthmore.

tween meetings scheduled, the matter should be brought before the council, which will take action on it. In order to make the work of this body completely effective, all organizations which have not chosen representatives to it must do so.

Dorothy Horne '35 was elected to represent the council, as one of the three student members, on the recently formed student-faculty budgeting committee. It was decided that the council will sponsor the annual Christmas party, as it has done in recent years. The following committee has been appointed to make plans for this party: Dolores Quay '34, chairman; Mrs. Sheeder, Betty Luther '34, Eleanor Lyle '35, James Wharton '34, Dwight Gregory '34, and John Clark '34.

December 8 and 9 were approved as the tentative dates for the Interfraternity Ball and the annual Curtain Club play. The council discussed its budget for this year, felt it was insufficient, but postponed any action on methods to raise additional funds.

The following cast has been chosen: Dr. Gurney—Chester Albright '34; Mrs. Lester—Sally Ennis '37; Cort—Irving Rappoport '36; Nurse—Ione Hausmann '35; Patient—Fulmer Hoffman '36.

The Women's Dormitory Committee has been making extensive preparations and asks for the support of the entire student body to make their plans a success.

PARADE CLIMAXES PEP WEEK

Following several meals throughout the week, the students gathered in front of Freeland for cheers. There were probably more hoarse throats on the campus, last week, because of continued cheering, than will be caused by colds all winter.

All the frosh wore signs made by the booster committee. Few there were who did not notice that "the jackass is the daddy of the mule," and other epigrams equally witty. The booster committee for the girls consisted of: Naomi Clark '34, chairman, Sylvia Liverant '34, Ruth Roth '34, Sara Pfhaler '34, and Eleanor Lyle '35. The men's booster committee was made up of: James Russo '34, chairman, James Wharton '34, Lawrence Shear '34, Norman Shollenberger '34, David Stephenson '34, Camille Kurtz '35, Frederick Mueller '35, Lynn Carr '35, and Blair Hunter '35.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

Press box. Ursinus... We count ten up here. But the existing record was set last p. m. when a crowd of 14 were spotted about 10 o'clock at an informal inauguration... According to the signs borne by the dink-and-tie boys, this game was won about Wednesday....

Dr. Omwake comes up to the press box between halves to look the boys over, but there was no official dedicating speech or tree-planting... More over he just missed the hot dogs, by two minutes, which Jing Johnson passed out to the scribes... The Mules marched down to the five yard line in the third period but the line then proceeded to hit 'em like that last Ec. exam hit us....

Our nomination for oblivion—the Mule who booted the winning field goal in the fourth quarter... It was Weiner, and believe me that dog was plenty hot all afternoon... Freshman! Who's gonna win the game next year?....

The defeat at the hands of Muhlenberg dropped Ursinus out of the running for the Conference championship, and virtually clinched the title for Gettysburg, who nosed out Dickinson, 10-7. Make of it what you may, but in the past two years Ursinus was both times knocked out of the championship picture in home games—both on Father's Day.

Pep week came to a rather inglorious close Saturday, but that detracted little if any from the benefit it did on the campus. Despite defeat, the spirit on the campus rose to a high pitch.

A word of gratitude for Jing Johnson. Jing is responsible for our new press box. The boys up there voted their hearty thanks for the protection from the wind, and eagerly devoured the hot dogs Jing passed around between halves to keep them warm. (The press fights on its stomach.) Kolbmann, of the Ledger, was one who stated that it would be a pleasure, rather than an ordeal, to witness Ursinus games in the future. The result of all this was, on the average, a better Ursinus write-up in the Philadelphia sheets. All of which is the same sermon which we preached in our column a couple of weeks ago.

The conference race is over as far as the Bears are concerned, but we still have a chance to take it out on Swarthmore, and avenge last year's defeat at Reading, when Ursinus will ring down the curtain on the season, meeting Albright on Thanksgiving Day.

NEW COMMITTEE TO AUDIT ORGANIZATIONS EXPENSES

2. Such records of account shall at all times be open to inspection by a committee authorized to perform this function.

3. All organizations shall be required to present their records to the committee for audit one week before the beginning of the semester examination periods.

4. The treasurer, business manager, or other responsible officer of each organization shall be held personally accountable for the monies entrusted to his care, and for the maintenance and presentation of the books of account.

5. In case of failure of the responsible officer to make a satisfactory accounting, college credit may be withheld, or other action taken, on recommendation of the committee.

6. Any organization may, at the request of the committee, be required to present a budget of proposed income and expenditures for approval.

7. The committee referred to above shall be composed of three faculty members and three student members. The faculty members shall be appointed annually by the president, and the student members shall be elected by the Men's Student Council, the Women's Student Government Association, and the Committee on Student Activities.

8. This committee shall be given the privilege of organizing in whatever way it sees fit.
